Businesses that specialize in creating content, including pre-press businesses have special needs.

We understand those special needs, by virtue of our experience in the print and publishing industry which spans 2 decades. From our start as typesetters to our current work of system integration, we can provide the training, system design, customization and integration your business needs.

We feature the following high-quality products created by MarkzWare software.

FlightCheck -- The original, and still the best, FlightCheck saves the media industry millions of dollars in lost time due to missing elements, missing fonts, and incorrectly formatted jobs. Unlike other competing applications, FlightCheck can operate on an array of native file formats, including QuarkXPress, Photoshop, PageMaker, Illustrator, Acrobat PDF Files as well as "Print-to-Disk" or ".ps" files. Maccimizer is one of less than a dozen certified training organizations in the U.S. for FlightCheck. FlightCheck runs on both Macintosh and PC platforms.

FlightCheck Designer -- The cousin of FlightCheck, FlightCheck Designer does more basic checks on selected file formats and collects all the job elements together for transmission to service bureau, printer or imaging. It checks for 150 potential problems in your files before file transmission. Maccimizer also conducts training for FlightCheck Designer! FlightCheck Designer runs on both Macintosh and PC platforms.

MarkzScout -- Using MarkzScout is like having an additional worker on your staff, without the salary or benefits. It can be customized to do many functions which previously had to be done manually. You can use MarkzScout to smooth out the bumps in your workflow. Integrated with FlightCheck, MarkzScout can help you create fully-automated workflows. AppleScript and OLE compliant, MarkzScout runs on both Macintosh and PC platforms. This product is only supported in OS 9.

MarkzNet -- MarkzNet is the premium product from MarkzWare, fully integrating the power of FlightCheck, MarkzScout and IP file transfer to allow you to take in work over the internet. With MarkzNet, you can check all incoming jobs against your own specifications, send instructions for needed changes back to your customers, and once the job's ready to go, take in all the job ticket info, and bring the job into your shop for further processing. By linking MarkzNet to MarkzScout, you can fully automate the back end, bringing the job to a file server, printing device, RIP or proofing device for further action. MarkzNet is the premium job automation product for prepress organizations and runs on Mac Classic, Mac OS-X, all current versions of Windows and many variants of Unix.
